U.S. Probes Shelling of Havana Area

Miami-Based Students May Have Violated Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government pressed an investigation today to determine if the shelling of Havana violated the U.S. Neutrality Act.

The State Department already has pinned on a Miami-based exiled Cuban students group the responsibility for Friday night's attack, but has not said whether the raiders sailed from this country.

The neutrality law prohibits launching from U.S. soil armed attacks on countries not at war with the United States. The Justice Department is trying to find out if prosecutions under this law are called for.

In a Miami news conference Sunday, Juan Manuel Salvat, leader of the students group, declined to say where the ships used in the off-shore shelling of Miramar suburb were based. But, he declared, "I don't feel we have violated any law of any country."

In holding the Students Revolutionary Directorate responsible for the sortie the State Department warned Saturday that "any repetition of such action by any group could involve the provisions of the Neutrality Act." A spokesman said the government had no advance knowledge of the attack.

While U.S. officials personally have some sympathy for exiled Cubans, they take the view that such hit-and-run attacks only serve to feed Prime Minister Fidel Castro's claim that he needs Communist arms to build up his defenses.

Salvat said he and 22 other men ranging in age from 19 to 23 used a PT boat and a 31-foot cruiser in the raid. More than 60 shots were fired at Miramar during the seven-minute attack and a hotel headquarters of Soviet bloc technicians was damaged.

"We did it as Cubans seeking freedom for our homeland," he said. "We did it to show Democratic republics the world over that we mean business."

In a puzzling aftermath of the raid there was an unexplained interruption Sunday in normal telephone and cable communications between the United States and Cuba.

An American Telephone & Telegraph Co. spokesman said no explanation was offered for the break in communications. "They (the Cubans) just weren't answering," he said.

After inspecting damage inflicted by the raiders, Castro said in a formal statement: "We hold the United States government responsible."

U.S., Britain Propose Unpoliced Ban On Nuclear Tests; Soviet Says 'Nyet'

GENEVA (AP)—Britain and the United States today proposed a treaty for an unpoliced ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space—and the Soviet Union immediately turned a cold shoulder on the idea.

The Western powers proposed to continue working for a treaty to ban tests in all environments—but with provisions for international on-site inspection of suspicious tremors which might indicate underground tests.

Less than two hours after the West offered the partial ban a the 17-nation disarmament conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov turned thumbs down.

Kuznetsov told the meeting he would study the Western draft treaty for a partial ban excluding underground tests. But his subsequent remarks left no doubt his government would reject it.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean presented the Western proposal at the 7th session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Dean also put before the conference a second British-American draft treaty to ban tests in all environments for all time.

Dean said that this draft included ideas expressed by the neutralist delegations at the Geneva conference and takes account of improved Western methods of detecting underground explosions. But he stressed it also provides for international inspection on the site of a suspicious earth tremor, a provision that assured in advance its rejection by the Russians.

He said the United States and Britain, while still preferring a comprehensive treaty including a ban on underground nuclear explosions, were offering the partial ban in the belief that it would represent "a substantial positive gain for society."

Kuznetsov was quoted by Western conference sources as saying the Western proposal for a partial ban was "a stimulus to nuclear war."

The Soviet delegate insisted that any treaty banning atomic explosions must include underground nuclear tests.

At the same time, conference sources said Kuznetsov rejected out of hand the second proposal, calling for a ban on all tests in all environments for all time, but with provisions for compulsory international inspection on the site of a suspicious tremor which could be an earthquake or a clandestine underground explosion.

President John F. Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said in a joint statement that unlike underground testing, nuclear tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space "can be effectively verified without on-site inspections."

Throughout the long Geneva nuclear negotiations the Russians have steadfastly balked on all proposals for on-site inspections of tests.

Kennedy and Macmillan expressed in their joint statement a strong preference for a clear-cut ban on all nuclear testing.

They said: "For the safety and security of all of us, this deadly competition must be halted."

But they said they are prepared to conclude an early agreement, covering the more limited field, "if this represents the widest area of agreement possible at this time."

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, in handing out the Kennedy-Macmillan statement, refused to amplify it in any way.

"The statement speaks for itself," he said.

U.S. Expects Nuclear Shot Within Months

Urgency Seen Needed For Treaty Banning Continued Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Disarmament Agency officials expressed belief today that Communist China probably will set off a nuclear explosion within a matter of months.

They made the estimate in explaining the urgency which lies behind the latest U.S.-British proposal for a limited treaty banning tests of nuclear weapons in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

Under terms of the treaty, the Soviet Union, U.S., Britain and France would agree to "refrain from causing, encouraging, or in any way participating in," nuclear weapons test explosions in other countries.

Over a period of years, it is estimated that at least 20 countries not now possessing a nuclear capability will be able to develop nuclear devices. This does not mean, however, that they will be able to deliver such weapons without technical advice and the industrial strength needed to produce costly and highly sophisticated missiles.

Thus the proposed pact would at least put the brakes on development and trial by the Chinese of the means to put their weapons on target.

The officials would not elaborate on their estimate of Communist China's ability to fire a nuclear device. Presumably, the shot could come some time later this year.

American officials said the U.S.-British proposal for a limited treaty had been discussed in advance with France, and it is hoped France would become a party to the agreement.

Chances for a Soviet acceptance of the U.S.-British Proposal before Sept. 8, when the Geneva disarmament conference is due to recess, are considered about zero.

The proposal put forward at Geneva also was discussed with the congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and the Republican leadership.

Republican leaders have been critical of the Kennedy administration for what they call watering down the terms of a comprehensive test ban treaty.

But the latest proposal represents no retreat, the disarmament officials said, because there has been no U.S. insistence in the past for on-site inspections of weapons tests in the atmosphere, outer space or under water. The inspections are demanded only for underground tests.

Officials said that, while the Republican leadership was not entirely happy with the proposal, they suggested nothing better and would not oppose the agreement.

Ohio Penitentiary Escape Try by 2 Inmates Is Foiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Ohio Penitentiary prisoners were foiled in an escape try early today—scarcely an hour after a trusty who ran off Sunday was returned to the institution.

Warden Ernie Maxwell relates the story:

At 1:45 a.m., a convict accosted a guard who had just made a security check of his dormitory, brandished a pair of scissors and overpowered him. The inmate was George Miles, 49. The guard was Clarence Hodges, who had been on the job only since July 23.

Robert Jim Charles Ford, 23, then joined Miles, and the pair bound Hodges and left him in the dormitory. Under cover of considerable fog, Miles and Ford proceeded to a new building under construction along the west wall of the prison.

They got atop the steelwork, only to be spotted by guard Nelson Sager—another rookie, on the staff just since April 2—and were apprehended without a fight.

Ford and Miles face disciplinary action, Maxwell said.

Their attempt to break out followed the return inside the walls of George Goring, 46, of Akron at 1 a.m., brought back after being captured near Wadsworth.

Maxwell said Miles is under a 20-year-to-life sentence from Cuyahoga County for malicious entry of a financial institution. He was received at the penitentiary on Sept. 15, 1960, after being caught attempting a holdup in Cleveland. He had escaped the penitentiary June 8, 1960, "losing an armed guard when he was given permission to attend a funeral although serving an armed robbery sentence."

A one-time resident of Sebring and Alliance as well as the Cleveland area, Miles also made an escape from Mansfield Reformatory in the 1930s. He also did some time in Sing Sing and another stretch in Ohio Penitentiary beginning in 1941.

Ford was committed last Jan. 17 under a life sentence from Montgomery County for first-degree murder and burglary.

U.S. Blames Russians for Wall Trouble

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States, in a note today, held the Soviet Union responsible for shooting and disorders along the Berlin wall and again invited it to a four-power conference to deal with the problem.

The note, delivered to the Foreign Office today, replied to a Soviet note to the United States Friday which protested stoning of Soviet troop buses in West Berlin.

"The U.S. government understands the concern of the Soviet government about the stone throwing at Soviet personnel," the American note said, "but the Soviet government cannot expect to escape censure for, or to avoid the consequences of, permitting brutalities to occur in the sector of the city for which it is responsible."

The note was delivered less than 72 hours after the Soviet note was received, setting something of a record in exchanges between East and West Berlin.

The note called attention to the shooting of an East German youth Aug. 17 by East German police, who let him bleed to death without aid. It recalled also that on Aug. 23 "another young German was shot in the back by the police of the Soviet sector."

He was taken to a West Berlin hospital but died there.

Another Soviet Nuclear Test Blast Is Detected

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—A new Soviet nuclear test in the atmosphere above the Novaya Zemlya region was registered today at the Seismologic Institution at Uppsala University.

Swedish scientists estimated the blast power at about 14 megatons, or the equivalent of 14 million tons of TNT.

Texas Eastern Plans Pipeline Across County

Permission to construct and maintain a pipeline across Pickaway County was granted today by the County Board of Commissioners to the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.

According to Texas Eastern, the line will run parallel with one that already spans the county. Work is scheduled to start about Sept. 1.

The new line will pass through Monroe, Muhlenberg, Jackson, Harrison and Walnut Townships. From west to east, it will enter Pickaway County at a point north of Mt. Sterling, extend through Pherson, Little Walnut and enter Fairfield County directly east of Ashville.

Texas Eastern's application for construction noted that the firm will comply at all times with rules and regulations of Pickaway County. Advance notice will be supplied to the County Engineer prior to construction.

THE notice also explained that Texas Eastern will restore all roads and highways intersected or touched by the construction project. The firm also will provide maintenance and repair so as not to obstruct or interfere with travel along the roadways.

In other business, Commissioners Charles Morris and Lloyd Melvin agreed to take steps to speed up action to provide a ford across Moccasin Creek at Armstrong Road in Salter Creek Twp. Commissioner Clyde Michel was absent due to vacation.

The move was made following an appearance by Creighton Winland, Hocking County, who owns farm land in the area. The Commission said the County Engineer will be contacted and asked to complete the work.

Non-Religious Funeral Given Slain Refugee

BERLIN (AP)—More than 300 East Berliners joined today at the funeral of Peter Fechter, the 18-year-old refugee whose killing by East German police touched off last week's rioting.

Those attending the ceremony, in the cemetery of East Berlin's Evangelical Church of the Resurrection, included young Fechter's parents and a sister and brother, who live in East Berlin. There was also a niece, Jutta Mueller, 7, who played about the grave-stones. Her mother, Lieselotte Mueller, 27, lives in West Berlin and has not been able to see her since the Communists began to build the wall a year ago.

Standing in front of a large crucifix, a black-suited speaker made a funeral oration—with no reference to religion.

He explained the boy's death this way: "A lot of you have been in the mountains on vacation. Sometimes you came across paths marked no entry. Just as the authorities have to protect you against taking such dangerous paths, so they have a duty to keep the unripe and immature from taking dangerous ways."

An attendant said the speaker was one of a group of laymen officially authorized to address non-religious funerals.

Six elderly pallbearers in tall silk hats, apparently professionals, carried the wood coffin to the grave.

Truck Levels Car; 3 Killed

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—An Akron couple and their infant child were killed when a tractor-trailer went out of control on U.S. 224 about two miles west of Deerfield and overturned on their automobile Sunday night.

Killed were James W. Oosse, 31; his wife, Mildred Louise, 34; and their daughter, Janet, 2.

Portage County sheriff's deputies said the eastbound truck apparently skidded on the rain-wet pavement and mashed down on the westbound automobile. The truck was carrying a 27,000-pound cargo. Its driver was uninjured.

It was nearly three hours before the truck could be lifted and the bodies removed.

Portage County authorities said the truckdriver, Clyde Grady, 44, of St. Louis, was being charged with involuntary manslaughter. A preliminary hearing was scheduled in Ravenna Municipal Court.

Venus Probe Is Off Course; Scientists Seek Correction

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An off-course Mariner 2 spacecraft rocketed into space today on an intended 109-day trip to explore the planet Venus. Despite a severe trajectory error, scientists were hopeful they could correct most of it by remote signals to an on-board motor.

Improper rocket performance released the 447-pound spacecraft on a course that, if followed, would cause it to miss Venus by not more than 600,000 miles when the two make their closest approach Dec. 14.

This is far from the 10,000-mile-distant fly-by that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned.

Just how much the spacecraft can be commanded back to a Venus rendezvous course will not be known until more precise tracking information is available. This may be several days.

Jack James, Mariner manager for NASA's jet propulsion laboratory, said the on-board motor has the capability of making a 500-600 mile correction depending on the position of the spacecraft.

This would mean Mariner 2 could be jockeyed onto a path to pass within 100,000 miles of Venus—too great a range for its sensitive instruments to do much probing beneath Venus' heavy blanket of clouds.

But there was a chance refined tracking data might show the present course to be less than 600,000 miles off and that the probe therefore could pass closer to the mysterious bright planet.

James said to be any value in exploring Venus, Mariner 2 would have to approach within 25,000 miles on the sunlit side. He said important data would be gained about interplanetary space between Earth and Venus even if the craft missed by a greater distance, but the main goal of the experiment would be lost.

The key to straightening Mariner 2's trajectory is a 37.3-pound motor which will be fired by ground radio signal eight days after launching when tracking computers have precisely defined the spacecraft's position, attitude and velocity. Then the vehicle will be more than one million miles away from Earth on its intended 180 million mile junket past Venus and into endless orbit about the sun.

Although Venus is only 69 million miles from earth now and will be 36 million miles away at the planned interception time, Mariner 2 is to follow a high-arching path of more than 180 million miles to reach its destination.

The circuitous route is necessary because the spacecraft had to be aimed far in front of the lane so that Mariner 2 and Venus will achieve the near-encounter in mid-December.

Complexity of the firing maneuver is demonstrated by the speeds of the three bodies involved: earth 66,600 miles an hour and Venus 79,200 miles, both in orbit about the sun; Mariner 27,500 mph at start, slowing to less than 7,000 miles for most of the journey and accelerating to 91,600 miles during the Venus fly-by.

If all goes well—as the spacecraft makes its half-hour sweep across Venus' sunlit side, six delicate sensing devices will seek to penetrate the dense cloud cover which for centuries has concealed secrets of the planet from man's inquisitive eyes and instruments.

The sensors will measure such things as temperatures, magnetic fields, radiation, solar plasma, cosmic dust and other phenomena which can be interpreted into basic knowledge of the nature and composition of the Venusian atmosphere.

The instruments will have only 30 minutes to gather their data, then Mariner 2 is to speed on into eternal orbit about the sun.

6 Children Die as Fire Sweeps Home

CLOVIS, Calif. (AP)—The six children of Ben and Betty Funk died in a fire that destroyed their new home in this Fresno suburb Sunday despite valiant rescue tries by the father and neighbors.

One teen-age neighbor smashed through a window into the blazing home and, with hands slashed by broken glass, handed out four of the children. But they apparently were dead at the time.

The dead children were: Dennis, 9; Howard, 8; Charlotte, 7; Shirley, 6; John, 3, and Deborah, 21 months. Deputy Coroner Walter Sechler said all had suffocated.

Authorities said cause of the fire was not immediately apparent and may not be learned for several days pending check of the ashes.

Funk, 32, a cabinet maker, was awakened by his wife, 28, at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday with a cry of "fire."

He broke a window of their bedroom and tumbled outside, cut by glass fragments. Then Funk and his brother, Leonard, 20, who had been sleeping in the back yard, pulled Mrs. Funk through the window.

Her leg was broken when it became entangled between frame and sill.

Russell Welch, 19, who lives two houses away, heard screams of alarm, ran to help and battered in through a window.

He told newsmen later he found three of the children in bed and two others on the floor.

Johnson, Turks Study U.S. Aid

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson talked with Turkish leaders today about continuing American economic and military aid to this strategic North Atlantic Treaty Organization ally.

Sources said the vice president told them the United States foresees the need for direct economic aid for at least the next two years but is looking forward to the day when the help will be in the form of development projects rather than direct aid.

Premier Ismet Inonu and President Cemal Gursel gave Johnson an account of Turkey's own plans for economic recovery through a five-year program expected to be announced shortly.

Johnson arrived Sunday for a four-day stay in Turkey.

Hospital Levy Is Postponed Until Sept. 4

Presentation of a second proposal asking the County Board of Commissioners to place a Berger Hospital building levy on the Nov. 6 ballot has been postponed until Sept. 4.

The proposal originally was scheduled to go before the Commission today. However, the date was changed when it was learned that Commissioner Clyde Michel would be absent due to a vacation.

The Berger Board of Governors determined to re-submit their building resolution last week. The first proposal, submitted by the Board of Governors on July 30, was turned down by the Commission.

The building proposal calls for a 1½ mill levy to be placed on the ballot in November. The levy would be for a five-year period.

Commission Chairman Charles Morris today said the second request will be given careful consideration on Sept. 4. Several members of the Berger Board are scheduled to be present for the meeting.

Young Leftist Rebels Seek Algeria Power

ALGIERS (AP)—A group of young guerrilla officers proclaiming leftist, anti-Western views sought today to impose their will on Algeria.

The officers lead some 20,000 unruly troops of the guerrilla Wilaya (zone) No. 4 occupying Algiers and the surrounding area.

The guerrillas' physical control of the capital gave them power and influence far beyond their relative strength. They paralyzed Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau and forced it Saturday to abandon its powers as the provisional government only three weeks after taking office.

The bureau's withdrawal brought new chaos to the infant nation. Ben Bella flew to Oran, in western Algeria, where he felt sure of the loyalty of the Guerrillas of Wilaya No. 5.

The guerrilla warlords were more than ever in unchallenged control of their areas. Progress toward a centralized government was once more brought to a standstill.

The election of a Constituent Assembly scheduled Sept. 2 was put off indefinitely. No one could forecast when and how Algeria would obtain an elected legislature and an effective elected civilian government.

Wilaya No. 4 issued a fiercely worded statement accusing the Political Bureau of betraying the Algerian revolution.

The statement, read to a crowded news conference, demanded a revolutionary "parliament," the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), to revise the nation's political leadership.

Foremost Arctic Explorer Dies

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, 82, one of the last great explorers and also one of the world's foremost arctic scientists and historians, died Sunday.

The explorer, born in Manitoba of Icelandic parents, predicted years ahead of the fact that the North Pole would become a crossroads for air travel between America and Europe. He also foresaw that submarines would travel under the arctic ice pack.

Stefansson, who once thought of making poetry a career, spent 10 winters and 13 summers in the Far North in the 15 years prior to his retirement in 1919 from active exploration. Since 1947 he had been arctic consultant at Dartmouth College and curator of the Stefansson collection of polar literature.

Once Around Roundtown

EVEN "HONORARY" politicians are pressured. Ted Lewis, bested with "Honorary Pickaway County Commissioner and Sheriff" titles last week, received his first letter Friday greeting him as a "County Commissioner."

The letter, from a local doctor, requested Ted's support in placing the Berger Hospital building program on the ballot in November.

TED LEWIS made a quiet tour of Circleville, Forest Cemetery and the park yesterday — unnoticed by Roundtowners. That's the way he wanted it, according to Ben Gordon, close friend of the famed entertainer.

After spending the evening at the Gordon home, Ted and his wife, Adah, returned to New York where he is preparing a new show slated to open in October.

Ted informed Gordon that more than $2,000 was grossed from record sales during his shows at The Maramor in Columbus. The money is to be distributed to the Berger Hospital and Ted Lewis Park Funds.

U.S., Britain Propose Unpoliced Ban On Nuclear Tests; Soviet Says 'Nyet'

GENEVA (AP)—Britain and the United States today proposed a treaty for an unpoliced ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space—and the Soviet Union immediately turned a cold shoulder on the idea.

The Western powers proposed to continue working for a treaty to ban tests in all environments—but with provisions for international on-site inspection of suspicious tremors which might indicate underground tests.

Less than two hours after the West offered the partial ban at the 17-nation disarmament conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov turned thumbs down.

Kuznetsov told the meeting he would study the Western draft treaty for a partial ban excluding underground tests. But his subsequent remarks left no doubt his government would reject it.

Monsoon Flood Kills 90

NEW DELHI (AP)—Ninety persons have died in monsoon floods in Assam and other parts of North India.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean presented the Western proposal at the 7th session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Dean also put before the conference a second British-American draft treaty to ban tests in all environments for all time.

Dean said that this draft includes ideas expressed by the neutralist delegations at the Geneva conference and takes account of improved Western methods of detecting underground explosions. But he stressed it also provides for international inspection on the site of a suspicious earth tremor, a provision that assured in advance its rejection by the Russians.

He said the United States and Britain, while still preferring a comprehensive treaty including a ban on underground nuclear explosions, were offering the partial ban in the belief that it would represent "a substantial positive gain for society."

Kuznetsov was quoted by Western conference sources as saying the Western proposal for a partial ban was "a stimulus to nuclear war."

The Soviet delegate insisted that any treaty banning atomic explosions must include underground nuclear tests.

At the same time, conference sources said Kuznetsov rejected out of hand the second proposal, calling for a ban on all tests in all environments for all time, but with provisions for compulsory international inspection on the site of a suspicious tremor which could be an earthquake or a clandestine underground explosion.

President John F. Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said in a joint statement that unlike underground testing, nuclear tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space "can be effectively verified without on-site inspections."

Throughout the long Geneva nuclear negotiations the Russians have steadfastly balked on all proposals for on-site inspections of tests.

Kennedy and Macmillan expressed in their joint statement a strong preference for a clear-cut ban on all nuclear testing.

They said: "For the safety and security of all of us, this deadly competition must be halted."

But they said they are prepared to conclude an early agreement, covering the more limited field, "if this represents the widest area of agreement possible at this time."

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, in handing out the Kennedy-Macmillan statement, refused to amplify it in any way.

"The statement speaks for itself," he said.

Venus Probe Is Off Course; Scientists Seek Correction

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An off-course Mariner 2 spacecraft rocketed into space today on an intended 109-day trip to explore the planet Venus. Despite a severe trajectory error, scientists were hopeful they could correct most of it by remote signals to an on-board motor.

Improper rocket performance released the 447-pound spacecraft on a course that, if followed, would cause it to miss Venus by not more than 600,000 miles when the two make their closest approach Dec. 14.

This is far from the 10,000-mile distant fly-by that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned.

Just how much the spacecraft can be commanded back to a Venus rendezvous course will not be known until more precise tracking information is available. This may be several days.

Jack James, Mariner manager for NASA's jet propulsion laboratory, said the on-board motor has the capability of making a 500-600 mile correction depending on the position of the spacecraft.

This would mean Mariner 2 could be jockeyed onto a path to pass within 100,000 miles of Venus—too great a range for its sensitive instruments to do much probing beneath Venus' heavy blanket of clouds.

But there was a chance refined tracking data might show the present course to be less than 600,000 miles off and that the probe therefore could pass closer to the mysterious bright planet.

James said to be any value in exploring Venus, Mariner 2 would have to approach within 25,000 miles on the sunlit side. He said important data would be gained about interplanetary space between Earth and Venus even if the craft missed by a greater distance, but the main goal of the experiment would be lost.

The key to straightening Mariner 2's trajectory is a 37.3-pound motor which will be fired by ground radio signal eight days after launching when tracking computers have precisely defined the spacecraft's position, attitude and velocity. Then the vehicle will be more than one million miles away from Earth on its intended 180 million mile junket past Venus and into endless orbit about the sun.

Although Venus is only 69 million miles from earth now and will be 36 million miles away at the planned interception time, Mariner 2 is to follow a high-arching path of more than 180 million miles to reach its destination.

The circuitous route is necessary because the spacecraft had to be aimed far in front of the lane so that Mariner 2 and Venus will achieve the near-encounter in mid-December.

Complexity of the firing maneuver is demonstrated by the speeds of the three bodies involved: earth 66,600 miles an hour and Venus 79,200 miles, both in orbit about the sun; Mariner 22,500 mph at start, slowing to less than 7,000 miles for most of the journey and accelerating to 91,600 miles during the Venus fly-by.

If all goes well—as the spacecraft makes its half-hour sweep across Venus' sunlit side, six delicate sensing devices will seek to penetrate the dense cloud cover which for centuries has concealed secrets of the planet from man's inquisitive eyes and instruments.

The sensors will measure such things as temperatures, magnetic fields, radiation, solar plasma, cosmic dust and other phenomena which can be interpreted into basic knowledge of the nature and composition of the Venusian atmosphere.

The instruments will have only 30 minutes to gather their data, then Mariner 2 is to speed on into eternal orbit about the sun.

6 Children Die as Fire Sweeps Home

CLOVIS, Calif. (AP)—The six children of Ben and Betty Funk died in a fire that destroyed their new home in this Fresno suburb Sunday despite valiant rescue tries by the father and neighbors.

One teen-age neighbor smashed through a window into the blazing home and, with hands slashed by broken glass, handed out four of the children. But they apparently were dead at the time.

The dead children were: Dennis, 9; Howard, 8; Charlotte, 7; Shirley, 6; John, 3, and Deborah, 21 months. Deputy Coroner Walter Sechler said all had suffocated.

Authorities said cause of the fire was not immediately apparent and may not be learned for several days pending check of the ashes.

Funk, 32, a cabinet maker, was awakened by his wife, 28, at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday with a cry of "fire."

He broke a window of their bedroom and tumbled outside, cut by glass fragments. Then Funk and his brother, Leonard, 20, who had been sleeping in the back yard, pulled Mrs. Funk through the window.

Her leg was broken when it became entangled between frame and sill.

Russell Welch, 19, who lives two houses away, heard screams of alarm, ran to help and battered in through a window.

He told newsmen later he found three of the children in bed and two others on the floor.

Hospital Levy Is Postponed Until Sept. 4

Presentation of a second proposal asking the County Board of Commissioners to place a Berger Hospital building levy on the Nov. 6 ballot has been postponed until Sept. 4.

The proposal originally was scheduled to go before the Commission today. However, the date was changed when it was learned that Commissioner Clyde Michel would be absent due to a vacation.

The Berger Board of Governors determined to re-submit their building resolution last week. The first proposal, submitted by the Board of Governors on July 30, was turned down by the Commission.

The building proposal calls for a 1½ mill levy to be placed on the ballot in November. The levy would be for a five-year period.

Commission Chairman Charles Morris today said the second request will be given careful consideration on Sept. 4. Several members of the Berger Board are scheduled to be present for the meeting.

Young Leftist Rebels Seek Algeria Power

ALGIERS (AP)—A group of young guerrilla officers proclaiming leftist, anti-Western views sought today to impose their will on Algeria.

The officers lead some 20,000 unruly troops of the guerrilla Wilaya (zone) No. 4 occupying Algiers and the surrounding area.

The guerrillas' physical control of the capital gave them power and influence far beyond their relative strength. They paralyzed Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau and forced it Saturday to abandon its powers as the provisional government only three weeks after taking office.

The bureau's withdrawal brought new chaos to the infant nation. Ben Bella flew to Oran, in western Algeria, where he felt sure of the loyalty of the Guerrillas of Wilaya No. 5.

The guerrilla warlords were more than ever in unchallenged control of their areas. Progress toward a centralized government was once more brought to a standstill.

The election of a Constituent Assembly scheduled Sept. 2 was put off indefinitely. No one could forecast when and how Algeria would obtain an elected legislature and an effective elected civilian government.

Wilaya No. 4 issued a fiercely worded statement accusing the Political Bureau of betraying the Algerian revolution.

The statement, read to a crowded news conference, demanded a revolutionary "parliament," the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), to revise the nation's political leadership.

U.S. Expects Nuclear Shot Within Months

Urgency Seen Needed For Treaty Banning Continued Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Disarmament Agency officials expressed belief today that Communist China probably will set off a nuclear explosion within a matter of months.

They made the estimate in explaining the urgency which lies behind the latest U.S.-British proposal for a limited treaty banning tests of nuclear weapons in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

Under terms of the treaty, the Soviet Union, U.S., Britain and France would agree to "refrain from causing, encouraging, or in any way participating in," nuclear weapons test explosions in other countries.

Over a period of years, it is estimated that at least 20 countries not now possessing a nuclear capability will be able to develop nuclear devices. This does not mean, however, that they will be able to deliver such weapons without technical advice and the industrial strength needed to produce costly and highly sophisticated missiles.

Thus the proposed pact would at least put the brakes on development and trial by the Chinese of the means to put their weapons on target.

The officials would not elaborate on their estimate of Communist China's ability to fire a nuclear device. Presumably, the shot could come some time later this year.

American officials said the U.S.-British proposal for a limited treaty had been discussed in advance with France, and it is hoped France would become a party to the agreement.

Chances for a Soviet acceptance of the U.S.-British Proposal before Sept. 8, when the Geneva disarmament conference is due to recess, are considered about zero.

The proposal put forward at Geneva also was discussed with the congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and the Republican leadership.

Republican leaders have been critical of the Kennedy administration for what they call watering down the terms of a comprehensive test ban treaty.

But the latest proposal represents no retreat, the disarmament officials said, because there has been no U.S. insistence in the past for on-site inspections of weapons tests in the atmosphere, outer space or under water. The inspections are demanded only for underground tests.

Officials said that, while the Republican leadership was not entirely happy with the proposal, they suggested nothing better and would not oppose the agreement.

Foremost Arctic Explorer Dies

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Vilhjalmar Stefansson, 82, one of the last great explorers and also one of the world's foremost arctic scientists and historians, died Sunday.

The explorer, born in Manitoba of Icelandic parents, predicted years ahead of the fact that the North Pole would become a crossroads for air travel between America and Europe. He also foresaw that submarines would travel under the arctic ice pack.

Stefansson, who once thought of making poetry a career, spent 10 winters and 13 summers in the Far North in the 15 years prior to his retirement in 1919 from active exploration. Since 1947 he had been arctic consultant at Dartmouth College and curator of the Stefansson collection of polar literature.

Bullet Lodged In Boy's Brain

Springfield Youth May Return to School

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Donald Fligor Jr. has the usual teen-ager's ravenous appetite.

Don jokes a lot and looks forward to returning to his junior high school classes next month. But Don gets dizzy sometimes and has a headache.

The 14-year-old youth has a .22-caliber bullet lodged in his brain. Three weeks ago Don was given a one in four chance to live. He was accidentally shot in the left temple by a young friend, and doctors at Columbus Children's Hospital felt it was too risky to operate. The bullet is embedded four inches in his brain.

Don was kept packed in ice for 10 days. His body temperature was dropped from the normal 98.6 to 86 degrees to slow his circulation and reduce the pressure on the brain. Doctors believe scar tissue will build around the bullet and hold it in place.

The youth spent 16 days in the hospital and came home to Springfield a week ago Sunday.

"It's a miracle," says the boy's father. "Everytime they wheeled a body out you just sat and wondered if that was your son."

Don lost 15 pounds during the ordeal, but now "he eats all the time, not a lot at one time, but just all the time," according to his stepmother.

A frequent visitor is 14-year-old Jimmy Oppy who held the pistol when it went off. Jimmy was put in a detention home here for seven days following the shooting.

Don's father objected. "Even if Don had died I would never have wanted anything to have befallen that little boy," he said.

On Sept. 7 Don will have a thorough examination. The results will probably determine whether he can go back to school this fall and how much activity he can have.

Five Arrested For Gas Theft

Two Circleville men and three local juveniles were apprehended early today by State Patrolmen and are being held for investigation concerning gas thefts and destruction of property.

According to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler, the adults, Terry Lee Sowers, 19, of 129 Logan St., and Benjamin Schwalbaugh Jr., 18, of 354 E. Ohio St., will appear in Municipal Court tomorrow on the gas theft charges. Other affidavits will be filed pending further investigation, the sheriff added.

The juveniles, two 16-year-olds and a 15-year-old, are being referred to local juvenile authorities.

The boys confessed to taking gasoline from storage tanks in the river bottoms and from a construction site near Ashville. They said they took two 10-gallon cans from the Farm Bureau Co-op here and were enroute to Ashville when they were stopped by the State Patrol.

Sowers will also be charged by the Sheriff's Department for chopping holes in gasoline tanks at the river bottoms early last week.

Stock Market Uneven Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in sluggish trading early this afternoon. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off a minimal 1 at 226.3 with industrials off .6, rails up 2 and utilities up 2.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional. A few selected issues showed movements of a point or more.

The approach of the Labor Day weekend, a traditional millipost for business and the market, was in mind. Some brokers saw the lack-luster market as hesitancy based on caution regarding how things will go in the fall.

Although steel mill orders were reported up again from the prior week, steel stocks were about unchanged to a shade lower after starting on a steady note. Motors were narrowly mixed along with most other important groups.

JFK Presents Medals to Freed GIs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy personally pinned a Bronze Star medal for meritorious cold war service today on Maj. Lawrence R. Bailey, emaciated captive of Laotian Communists for nearly 1 1/2 years.

In a ceremony in Bailey's room at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Kennedy said the medal was an inadequate token of affection for a test "in many ways more exacting" than service on a battlefield.

And the chief executive applied the same terms to a similar medal awarded simultaneously to another tortured captive, Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger, by the commander of Womack Army Hospital at Ft. Bragg, N.C. where Ballenger is hospitalized.

Bailey is from Laurel, Md., Ballenger from Columbus, Ohio.

The medals are the first to be awarded under an order the President issued last week. This permitted such awards for meritorious service under cold war conditions to members of the U.S. armed forces serving with friendly countries.

Solons Face Heavy Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heading into what they hope will be the final month of the session, the Senate and House buckle down today to a full week of work.

Twenty-two bills, several of them highly controversial, were crowded onto today's House calendar, to be followed Tuesday by consideration of a $900-million public works bill.

The Senate's week probably will be taken up with an unexpected fight over a House-passed tax revision bill stripped of many administration proposals by the Senate Finance Committee.

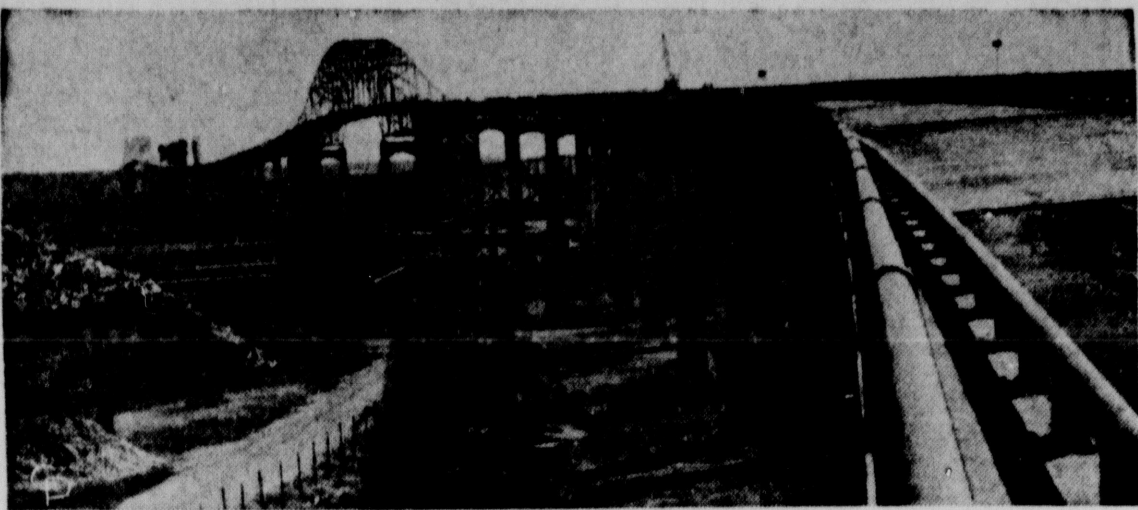

Top attraction on the House docket is a proposal to eliminate payment of poll taxes as a qualification for voting in elections involving federal office. It is one of 13 bills slated to be called up today under a procedure requiring a two-thirds vote for passage.

The World Today

By James Marlow

The Circleville Herald, Mon. August 27, 1962 3

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurgood Marshall, the Negro lawyer who led the step-by-step fight of Negroes against segregation in America, got a lot of practice in waiting. He needed it.

Almost a year ago President Kennedy, deciding to appoint him to the federal Court of Appeals, sent his nomination to the Senate for approval. There has been no approval yet.

But the Senate whipped through in a few days with its blessing by Byron O. (Whizzer) White when Kennedy last March appointed the former All-America football star to the higher position of Supreme Court justice.

Neither the delay with Marshall nor the speed with White lay with the full Senate.

The responsibility in both cases rested with the Senate Judiciary and with another Southern Democrat, Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, head of a subcommittee.

The 54-year-old Marshall, as chief counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, started in 1938 to argue before the Supreme Court, in case after case against segregation of Negroes.

He won all but three. His crowning achievement was in the Supreme Court decision of May 17, 1954, outlawing segregation in public schools.

Last Sept. 23 Kennedy nominated him to the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals which handles cases from Vermont, Connecticut and New York and sent his name to the Senate. Congress quit before any action was taken. So on Oct. 23, 1961 Kennedy gave him a recess appointment.

When Congress returned this year, Kennedy sent his name to the Senate again, this time on Jan. 15.

As usual the nomination was referred to Eastland's committee where the procedure is to hold public hearings on the man's merits. After the hearings the committee votes for or against. If the votes is against, that almost always ends it. If the committee approves, then the name goes to the full Senate for approval or the opposite.

But Eastland turned Marshall's case over to Johnston for his subcommittee to hold hearings.

The procedure here, after the subcommittee hearings, is for the full committee to vote. But Johnston stalled and held six hearings since January.

This is quite a contrast with the treatment White got. Kennedy nominated him March 30. White at the time was deputy attorney general. Before that he had been a practicing attorney.

In 1960 White, whose home is Colorado, had organized a Kennedy-for-President group and in 1961, during the presidential campaign, headed the National Volunteers for Kennedy.

White's nomination didn't go to a subcommittee. Although the full committee probably knew far less about White than it did about Marshall, a brief hearing was held April 11 and White got unanimous committee approval. That same day the full Senate approved.

Some of the Judiciary Committee members who are not on Johnston's subcommittee — like Democrats Philip A. Hart of Michigan and John A. Carroll of Colorado and Republican Kenneth B. Keating of New York — have been publicly putting the heat on Johnston to get through with the Marshall case.

Johnston decided Friday he had had enough hearings. But he hasn't decided when he'd call his subcommittee together to consider Marshall's worthiness before reporting to the full judiciary committee.

Since Congress is in a rush to quit and go home, there's a chance the full Senate won't be able to vote on Marshall this year unless there's quick action by Johnston and Eastland. Marshall's salary will be cut off if he's not confirmed before the Senate adjourns.

SMALLPOX WARDOFF—Eduardo Windhauser, 16, who was exposed to smallpox on the flight that brought victim James William Carr, 15, from Brazil, gets the needle in Washington, at the Argentine embassy. Mrs. Isabel Banales, his mother, waits her turn. That's Dr. William E. Long of the D.C. Health Department doing the needling.

Ousted Farm Aide Denies Estes Whitewash Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emory E. Jacobs, ousted farm aid official, has denied he ever ordered a rigged investigation designed to whitewash the Billie Sol Estes cotton deals, or discussed such a scheme with Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy.

His sworn testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee conflicted squarely with that earlier in the week from Thomas H. Miller, a deputy farm aid director, who said he had received and obeyed exactly such orders from Jacobs.

"I say I did not do it," Jacobs declared.

As to whether he had discussed with Murphy any scheme to send Miller in quest of one-sided evidence to provide an excuse for placing a phony cloak of legality around the Estes cotton deals, Jacobs said:

"We did not, sir."

Murphy himself, in a statement issued meantime at the Agriculture Department, asked that no conclusion or judgments be made regarding his part in the Estes case until he tells his story before congressional investigators. He may testify before the senators next week.

"All of the matters which I dealt with concerning Estes came to me in the normal course of my duties as undersecretary of agriculture," Murphy's statement said.

"I dealt with all of them strictly on the merits as I saw them. No pressures or improper influences had any effect on my decisions."

Jacobs' testimony disputing that of Miller came under questioning by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

In summing it up, McClellan said Jacobs was saying that Miller gave deliberately false statements to the Senate investigators. He asked what reasons Jacobs thought Miller had.

Jacobs said Miller is "a good man," but suggested Miller panicked when the Estes scandals broke.

"He saw that anyone who had anything to do with Billie Sol Estes would probably be let off the next morning," Jacobs said.

"He probably sought the first protection he could—the nearest man, and that was me."

Jacobs was ousted from his job last April after accusations that he had accepted gifts of expensive clothing from Estes. He denied it.

The subcommittee, headed by McClellan, is investigating whether political influence high in the Agriculture Department or elsewhere helped Estes, a Pecos, Tex., promoter, on shady or illegal farm aid deals.

The senators are looking particularly into cotton acreage planting allotments wrangled by Estes from other states. The department finally canceled the allotments and fined Estes $554,000.

Miller had testified that Jacobs sent him to Texas on an investigating mission last January with these instructions:

"I (Jacobs) want you to send a report containing every justification you can find to permit retention of these allotments."

"What do you say to that?" McClellan asked after reading this to Jacobs from a transcript of Miller's testimony.

"I say I did not do it," Jacobs replied firmly.

The mission to Texas resulted from a Jan. 6 meeting of top level Agriculture Department officials which rescinded orders cancelling Estes' disputed cotton allotment deals for 1961.

Mark Twain's Essay Released

Antireligious Paper Due To Be Published

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mark Twain's daughter consented to publication of her father's antireligious essays only after professors convinced her the works belong to the world, her husband says.

Mrs. Clara Clemens Samossoud fought publication of the essays for 20 years, her husband, Jacques, declared.

"Professors at the University of California at Berkeley argued that we had no moral right to suppress these works," Samossoud explained in an interview.

They will be published next month in a volume entitled "Letters from the Earth."

He said they decided about three months ago to allow publication of the essays, described as containing sharp criticism of religion, churches, the Bible, the Koran and the Talmud.

He related that Mrs. Samossoud read the essays eight years ago and then threw them away.

"My wife is a Christian Scientist and naturally does not agree with her father's views on religion," Mark Twain believed in God but criticized man's interpretation of Him, Samossoud said.

The essays to be published were written during a period of personal tragedy in the life of Twain whose real name was Samuel Clemens. He had lost his wife and a daughter, and was deeply in debt. Twain — known around the world for "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn" and other characters he wrote about—died in 1910.

In the opening section of "Letters from the Earth," Twain, in the guise of Satan, writes reports to the archangels Gabriel and Michael. He describes the inhabitants of the Earth as long-suffering victims of their own ludicrous religious beliefs.

Potomac Pipe Dream

Savages of Surinam will remain unenlightened for a while longer. A congressional committee has persuaded foreign aid officials to scrap a project for a solar-powered ship to impress the Surinam tribes.

The now-shelved pipe dream was the product of the research division of the Agency for International Development. The boat, with a generator powered by sunlight, was to prowl the rivers of South America to show the natives the advantages of electricity.

What strange thinking processes must go on in the depths of the Washington bureaucracy. There is nothing wrong with promoting solar power. It may be the coming thing. And no one objects to trying to civilize the primitives of Latin American jungles.

But combining the two is so far-fetched it is unbelievable. Savages in loincloths, weaned but recently if at all from head-hunting, living Stone Age lives on the fringes of civilization, would be mystified by a steam engine, let alone a solar generator.

If AID's thinkers in residence must upgrade the natives, let them begin with basic things like education. A grass-hut school might not be dramatic, but it would help, as the solar-powered white elephant would not.

Well, there's no point in being indignant about the project. It's been killed. But somebody should shake some bats out of AID's ivory belfry.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Surveys are fast becoming an accepted part of everyone's life. The making of them is a business in itself. They tell where we were, where we are, where we think we're going.

Some businessmen complain they spend so much time filling out questionnaires about what they are doing or intend to do that they don't have time to do it.

But for good or ill, some surveys now affect thinking and planning—and acting. Others (so wide is the field of late) are laughed off as trivial or self-serving.

The taking of surveys is a widespread occupation, in both high and low places. The government, for example does it.

Federal departments ask businessmen how much they plan to spend for plant and equipment. They ask consumers how much they think they're going to spend, for what things, and how they feel about the chances of meeting the bills this year.

Private organizations—educational, industrial, researching, publishing—plow this same field. The effect of these surveys on business thinking and planning is considerable. The surveys thus become both a tool for the economists and a stimulant or deterrent to the economy.

How much consumers aim their own actions to their reading of survey findings is still a question. But it's apparent that many stock traders watch them closely for tips on the business cycle.

Many industrial groups survey the findings and plans of their members. Some aim at gaining information, some at influencing thinking or action.

Individual companies come up with surveys of their own, and their findings often predictably favor the future of their products or services.

A common byproduct of a survey is a trend. The company or group or publicity agent making the survey finds that its inquiries all point in one direction—usually a trend spelling profit for the one who made, or paid for, the survey.

The hope is that once a trend is sighted and trumpeted, enough others will want to conform to it to make that trend really profitable.

Originally surveys were mostly designed to gather facts or figures or percentages. There are many refinements of this general idea.

One is called motivational. That is, consumers (or businessmen) are questioned closely to see why they do this or that, buy this product instead of another. Going a step further the designers of such surveys say they can detect subconscious reasons that affect sales, product popularity, or a corporation's image.

Subdivisions of such inquiries are almost infinite. Color experts use them to determine package and produce designs. The variations of scent become subjects for consultations in directors' boardrooms. Consumers' ideas about taste, or lack of it, are eagerly sought by makers of beverages.

Sex is very much part of the surveying gambit. A recent example: A survey has been made of what young couples think of bucket seats in cars as opposed to the old style seats built for togetherness.

The finding: The honeymoon is over when the couple says it sees nothing wrong with bucket seats.

Child Study Assn. Offers Helpful Guidelines

Parents who periodically live in a gray No Man's Land of indecision wondering whether their child's strange behavior is just a passing phase or the sign of deep-down disturbance will take heart from criteria laid down by the Child Study Association in New York.

Experts there have come up with helpful guidelines as to when children need special help with emotional disturbances.

They suggest first a calm, considered look at the child's whole adjustment pattern before becoming panicky over one untoward incident.

If, for instance, a child suddenly refuses to go to school, a little patient analysis is called for. Has he always worried about school, or is this a new reaction? Can his present reaction be caused by a new teacher, a new friction, some stress and strain you and the teacher can uncover?

If in your parental delving into the child's personality, you recognize that every new experience has worried your child, that he moves from one area of trouble into another one, professional help is undoubtedly needed.

But if the current adjustment is not in keeping with your child's usual way of operating, watchful waiting is called for while you try to uncover the cause of his discontent.

How long to wait? The Child Study professionals submit five test questions to help a puzzled parent decide:

1. Is his present behavior consistent with his personality?

For example, you recognize that a youngster may persecute his small sister because he's jealous of her. This, too, will pass. But if your child carries resentments and dissatisfactions into all areas of his young life, you'll want to get professional help to assist him out of his confusion.

2. Is his behavior consistent with his age?

Take a look at his contemporaries and see whether he is emotionally similar. If he seems to be using methods more childish than his age bracket, look for assistance.

3. Can you find a specific difficulty in his present environment that's causing the problem?

If you can, you don't need to worry about continuing problems.

4. Has there been a revolutionary change in his behavior?

Knowing your child, you recognize how you expect him to react. Is he reacting consistently with his nature, or doing an abrupt about-face? If the latter, go for help.

5. How long has this problem been bothering him?

After having left no stone unturned to get at the root of the trouble, and you find the child's disturbance persists, it's sensible to seek help. First stop might well be the family physician or the pediatrician who has had his share of child psychology. Youth leaders who see your child in special situations may throw some light on his reactions. Self-help in the form of your own readings on child care and behavior problems, or your participation in parent discussion groups can broaden your understanding.

If after making these efforts, you feel special help is still needed, the Family Service Agency is a likely possibility, geared as it is to counseling on all phases of family trouble.

There may also be a guidance center in your city or county, or a traveling mental health clinic that makes periodic visits to your home community. To find out if these and other services are available, contact your state department of health, or the local chapter of the National Association for Mental Health.

Whether the problem requires little more than a few helpful tips on how to handle it, or calls for long-term assistance of a more psychiatric nature, you can be assured that the services of one or more agencies are available to you.

Independent Colleges Report Dorm Openings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges, Inc., reported today that qualified boys and girls making last-minute decisions to attend college this fall can still find places open for them in several Ohio colleges.

Surveying its 32 members, the foundation said housing—bottle-neck on most campuses, is still available for men and women at Capital, Dayton, Defiance, Findlay, Marietta and Ohio Northern. Space is available for women only at Bluffton, Steubenville, Western and Wilmington and for men only at Ashland, Baldwin-Wallace, Heidelberg and Mount Union.

Authorizations from the pension fund and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters have been made in the form of millions of dollars worth of mortgage loans. Among them is one for three million dollars to help build a new general hospital in North Miami, Fla. and another for half a million for the Miami Beach Hebrew Academy.

OLD COLONEL BEAUREGARD was a devil with the ladies, still charming the daylight out of them at 77. In fact, on his seventy-seventh birthday he adopted the practice of cutting a notch on his cane to mark each new conquest. That's what killed him on his seventy-eighth birthday. He made the mistake of leaning on his cane.

At a meeting of the innumerable analysts who summer at Provincetown, on the tip of Cape Cod, it was noted that Dr. Beetzlebohm was glum as could be. Pressed for an explanation, he reluctantly explained, "Remember that patient I told you about who had a hallucination that he was going to receive a letter telling him that an unknown benefactor in Texas had bequeathed him ten million dollars? After five years of painful treatment, I finally cured the poor sap. Three days later, he got the letter."

A three-time loser, up on the usual charge of grand larceny, pleaded that he had acted under hypnosis, and had no idea what he was doing. The kindly judge advised him, "Better get hypnotized again—so you won't mind spending the next twenty years in jail."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Stormy waves are pounding rocks—inside your head! Migraine has struck again! Allergy, menstrual periods and other conditions can bring on sick headaches. But high-strung, overworked minds and low-down feelings trigger most migraine.

If you inherit an unstable automatic control center, emotional storms explode into pounding nerves. From the center stream throbs that automatically control blood vessels and internal organs.

An unstable center swings back and forth, like a ship on choppy seas.

First it swings over to one side, making arteries tighten into spasm, choking off most blood.

You can't eat. Your stomach feels queasy. Appendicitis-like pains pierce your abdomen. You feel dull, dizzy and moody. Sparkling lights flash in front of half-blind eyes. You drool and eyes tear.

Blood can barely trickle into kidneys. Fluid can't drain and your system grows bloated. Now, the unstable center swings the other way.

Arteries relax and blood thunders into tiny vessels inside a pounding breaker.

Aspirin and ice packs can help soothe mild migraine. Translating prescriptions help restore an inner tropical calm. Talking out your troubles may bring back smooth sailing.

Ergot medicines can usually tighten relaxed arteries to stop throbbing migraine. A tight head bandage squeezes throbbing temple arteries and slows down thundering waves.

Ergot pills don't always work, especially when migraine shoots down cheek and jaw. That's because some migraine is caused by natural ergot chemicals, the same chemicals that shrink pupils, start tears and flood stuffy noses.

A new medicine helps prevent both kinds of migraine. Methysergide R works like a chemical gyroscope to steady that unstable control center. It prevents swaying too far in either direction.

Former Treasury Secretary Humprey said at the Senate nickel probe that he isn't a rich man, just 12 or 15 million. Can't be today's nickel.

The Gallup poll found very few persons who think Kennedy is a foe of business. Well, there are very few rich people.

Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev said she tried to talk her husband out of conducting nuclear tests last year. Now you know just how contrary he can be.

Mrs. Khrushchev said her husband was influenced by his political party. Not to say vice versa.

Mrs. Khrushchev said we have been overemphasizing the role women can play. And overplaying the role women can emphasize.

Potomac Pipe Dream

Savages of Surinam will remain unenlightened for a while longer. A congressional committee has persuaded foreign aid officials to scrap a project for a solar-powered ship to impress the Surinam tribes.

The now-shelved pipe dream was the product of the research division of the Agency for International Development. The boat, with a generator powered by sunlight, was to prowl the rivers of South America to show the natives the advantages of electricity.

What strange thinking processes must go on in the depths of the Washington bureaucracy. There is nothing wrong with promoting solar power. It may be the coming thing. And no one objects to trying to civilize the primitives of Latin American jungles.

But combining the two is so far-fetched it is unbelievable. Savages in loincloths, weaned but recently if at all from head-hunting, living Stone Age lives on the fringes of civilization, would be mystified by a steam engine, let alone a solar generator.

If AID's thinkers in residence must upgrade the natives, let them begin with basic things like education. A grass-hut school might not be dramatic, but it would help, as the solar-powered white elephant would not.

Well, there's no point in being indignant about the project. It's been killed. But somebody should shake some bats out of AID's ivory belfry.

New Data Changes Everything

By George Sokolsky

Free Inquiry is the task of this century in every country. So much is coming before us that no one can know everything or put our knowledge together into a system. Such philosophers as Aristotle and Thomas Aquinas today would probably be helpless before the mass of new material that is being brought in.

In the 1920's and 1930's we attacked Soviet Russia on the ground that production could only be possible on a large scale if the incentives of capitalism urged men to produce. In the 1960's we find, to our dismay and chagrin, that the Soviet bloc of countries is producing mightily and in certain extraordinarily complex fields is doing better than we do or is equal to us. This forces us to revalue our system and to attempt to discover why we fall behind. In a matter of 45 years, the Soviet nations have equalized us in the fields of physics, astrophysics, mathematics and metallurgy.

This our experts know to be true even if some die-hards decline to believe it. There are still those who ask, "Did Sputnik 1 really climb the skies?" There is no time to bother with such inquiries. We need to get on with our work, which is the survival of this nation and while it is possible in good times to suffer fools, these are not good times.

The biggest chance is neither political nor economic. It is in the field of technology. The Russians, casting aside traditional impediments, have moved into the fields of technology mobilizing entire nations. They turned out engineers as we used to turn out lawyers and ministers. It may be true that their young people prefer Upton Sinclair to John Milton, but the

Savings, Loan Firms Taking Long Look at Interest Rates

They have to find profit to pay high interest rates.

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

NEW YORK — The fun is almost over for the saver who has been reaping benefits from the mounting interest rates in the nation's banks and savings and loan institutions this year.

Under increases granted last Jan. 1, commercial banks over the country have been paying 3½ per cent interest on deposits held under a year, and four per cent on those held longer. Savings and loan associations' rates on savings vary, but range mostly from four per cent to 4½ per cent, with the highest rates being in effect in the Far West.

When these new increases went into effect, the banks touched off a scramble to attract savings dollars. They are pretty successful, too. In the first 15 days in June, for instance, the 15 largest savings banks in New York City had a net gain of $31,003,000, in deposits, up from $11,090,000 for the same period a year earlier.

Today, somewhere between 55 and 60 per cent of all families in the nation have one or more savings accounts, as against only 39 per cent at the start of 1946.

In the first quarter of this year, their savings jumped nearly $9 billion, or almost 40 per cent more than they did in the first three months of last year.

With all this savings account money pouring into their vaults, the nations banks are finding themselves in an increasingly tight spot. They just can't find enough places to loan it out fast enough — particularly in the shrinking mortgage market — to earn enough return to pay off the higher interest rates that attract the savings in the first place.

A lot of this savings account money was formerly invested in the stock market. A major New York City commercial bank reports "a big upsurge in recent savings." Because of the timing, bank officials relate this increase to the stock market slump that began Monday, May 28.

to $10,000, people would rather take the "sure" return of four per cent or better on their money from the banks than the risk for only slightly higher returns in the stock market.

Caught in this profit squeeze, most banks would like to call a halt. A note of caution is creeping into their ads for new savings. Around the country, some banks and thrift institutions are retreating from the high interest and dividend rates.

In Flemington, N. J., the Hunterdon County National Bank has cut its payments on savings to three per cent from the 3½ per cent it paid for several months.

The First National Bank of Leesburg, Fla., has done the same thing, its president, Carlisle Rogers, explaining, "We haven't been able to invest with enough volume and margin of profit to pay the increased rates."

The Guaranty Federal Savings & Loan Corporation, in Galveston, Tex., has rescinded its earlier increase to 4½ per cent, dropping back to four per cent. A Birmingham, Ala., banker reports, "It's the worst squeeze any of us have experienced since World War II."

Comet Involved In Collision

Major Traffic Mishap Seen in Solar System

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A major traffic accident in the solar system—probably the collision of a comet with an invisible cloud of radiation from the sun—was disclosed by astronomers Saturday.

Photographs of the recently discovered comet indicate it is being hit hard by something, possibly a solar wind of magnetic particles.

Dr. Jesse L. Greenstein of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories said:

"When comets are close to the sun, the disintegrating effects of solar radiation can be observed on them. This is the first time such effects have been observed at anywhere near this distance from the sun."

The comet, named for Dr. Milton L. Humason, who discovered it Sept. 1, 1961, now is about 240 million miles from the sun, between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

It will be nearest the earth—about 134 million miles away—on Aug. 28, and will reach its closest point to the sun—about 200 million miles—Dec. 10.

Calculations of its path indicate the Humason Comet swings around the sun in a great egg-shaped orbit billions of miles long. Its last close visit was 2,900 years ago.

Special photographs show the comet has developed a swirling tail nine million miles long and covers an area 20 times that of the full moon. Despite its size, however, it is not visible without binoculars. Comets are not solid bodies of matter but loosely combined forms of dust and frozen gas.

Some Smudges Mar Bright Economic Picture

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic panorama took on some brighter hues the past week but still was marred by smudges.

Rises by business indicator, a prediction of banner sales of automobiles in 1963, and an advancing stock market provided encouraging signs.

A laggard steel industry, beset by a profit squeeze, and spotty performances in scattered segments of the business world were a drag.

Statistics indicated the trend of the economy was predominantly upward in July. With reports on 30 barometers measuring various sectors of the economy still incomplete, the Census Bureau said 10 were up, 6 were down, and 1 was unchanged. In June, 15 of the 24 reported were down, 8 were up, and 1 was unchanged.

These indicators chart such things as housing starts, average factory work week, Standard & Poor's stock market index, retail sales, durable goods orders, initial claims for unemployment insurance, and prices of industrial materials.

Business men were cheered by the statement of Semon E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors Corp., the world's largest manufacturing company, that in his opinion there will be no recession in 1963. He predicted that the automobile industry will sell 7 million cars this year and next year.

Responding to good news, the stock market staged a vigorous rally and climbed above the level at which it had stood before the Black Monday crash of May 28 the worst fall since 1929.

The aerospace issues paced the advance on word that the Defense Department had awarded the prime contract for the Titan III space-launching vehicle to Martin-Marietta Co. The entire Titan III project is expected to cost $500 million. The market leadership passed to motor shares after Knudsen's statement.

The market surge was temporarily interrupted when steel issues fell on news that Republic Steel Corp. had sliced its quarterly dividend from 75 cents to 50 cents.

T. P. Patton, Republic president said his company "like other companies in the steel industry, has been caught in a squeeze between incessantly rising labor and other costs on the one hand and conditions which have prevented the company from obtaining relief through higher prices for its products on the other."

That the scars from the price battle between the Kennedy administration and steel producers

TO PERFORM AT BAND, GRID PREVIEW — The Davis Demons, popular Circleville Drum Corps unit, has been scheduled to perform Friday at the Circleville High School Band and Football Preview. The drum specialists, all local talent, will display fast-moving precision exercises. John Davis heads the unit. On the snare are Larry Eccard, Granville Jones and Davis; Tenors are Eddie Evans, Branson Hawks, Mike O'Donnell and Dave Thomas; on the tympani is Mike Lorentz and Don Phifer and Bob Stout are basses. The color guard is composed of Sam Ritter, George Grigg, Jim Anderson, Larry Lane, Mike Wilson, Steve Bowers and Doyle Manbeavers. Brian Bell is the drum major. The precision corps has been practicing most of the summer and has made numerous appearances around the state.

remain deep also was evident in a statement by Avery C. Adams, chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co.

He cited President Kennedy's statement in September that the steel industry can look forward to good profits, and said: "History has already proven that the President's statement with respect to the steel industry's potential profits, based as it was upon the theoretical and academic recommendations of his Council of Economic Advisers, was not in accord with the facts."

The steel industry increased its production the past week but still lagged at about 55.5 per cent of capacity. The output of 1,616,000 tons was up 2.4 per cent from the previous week. Orders indicated that improvement in September will be slight because automakers still have big stocks and will be working them off.

Automobile production still was very low—about 7,000 passenger cars—as the changeover to 1962 models moved slowly. American Motors and Ford joined Chrysler in turning out 1962s.

The railroads and labor were locked in battle on two fronts.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook.

A heavy fog blanketed about half of Ohio at sunrise today. The fog was expected to burn off during the middle of the forenoon, letting sunshine through over the central and western counties and clearing a little later over the eastern counties.

Rainfall the past 24 hours covered about 80 per cent of the state, leaving only a few southeastern Ohio counties without measurable rain. The average rainfall was less than one-third of an inch, and ranged from .1 inch at Columbus and Akron to .7 inch around Dayton.

Temperatures over the state this morning were in the high 50s and 60s. Columbus had 57, Toledo and Cincinnati 60, Cleveland 63 and Marietta 66.

The weather map shows all pressure systems moving very slowly. A high pressure area over Ohio this morning will make conditions favorable for dry weather and above-normal temperatures for the next two or three days.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average 7-9 degrees above normal. Normal high 79-81, normal low 57-62. Warm throughout period with progressively higher day-to-day temperatures. Precipitation will average less than one-tenth inch as widely scattered thundershowers toward end of week.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average 3-7 degrees above normal. Normal high 81-85, normal low 59 - 62. Warming trend middle of week, then little change. Rainfall will average less than one-fourth inch in scattered showers likely latter part of week.

They're Never Too Young

He's not old enough to write his name. Reading is way beyond him. But long before he acquires these skills, he may be a whiz in the world of ideas.

You may find this out by judicious use of the word "why."

Pre-schoolers aren't inhibited by facts and traditional ways of thinking, says Mrs. Charlotte B. Winsor, who teaches teachers at the Bank Street College of Education New York.

But parents often underestimate the ability of their youngsters to reason. Because they have no book learning, parents figure they can't think.

This cart-before-the-horse approach should be reversed, she feels. "Young children can be given the foundations of knowledge, and fill in with the facts later. But it takes a sensitive ear to recognize that a child is uttering a profound truth."

She cites the comment of a 5-year-old who had discovered a map of the United States: "It's so hard to imagine the world never ends."

This is the moment to take advantage of the child's awareness with a follow-through conversation. She suggests finding places on the map whose names he's heard, explaining that this is only the map of his country, and enlarging on his awareness of space.

This way, he's learning geography long before he can read or draw maps.

Mrs. Winsor says: Strategic use of the question "why" by a sensitized parent helps expose the kind of reasoning his youngster is doing, and keeps the parent abreast of the child. An authoritarian parent who "knows better" can't relax enough to set up this communication, and consequently underestimates his child.

Teachers too are prone to tell the child what to do, rather than letting his comments open up a discussion for the entire class. They're unnerved if the remark can't be put into the slot of usual class activity. But actually, they'll make future learning more speedy if they stimulate the child's thinking at the moment he's ready for it.

Symes, Pennsylvania chairman, at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing. Stock shares sold during the week totaled 20,493,852 shares, compared with 18,808,440 the previous week and 17,221,714 the comparable week of last year. ## They're Never Too Young

He's not old enough to write his name. Reading is way beyond him. But long before he acquires these skills, he may be a whiz in the world of ideas.

You may find this out by judicious use of the word "why."

Pre-schoolers aren't inhibited by facts and traditional ways of thinking, says Mrs. Charlotte B. Winsor, who teaches teachers at the Bank Street College of Education New York.

But parents often underestimate the ability of their youngsters to reason. Because they have no book learning, parents figure they can't think.

This cart-before-the-horse approach should be reversed, she feels. "Young children can be given the foundations of knowledge, and fill in with the facts later. But it takes a sensitive ear to recognize that a child is uttering a profound truth."

She cites the comment of a 5-year-old who had discovered a map of the United States: "It's so hard to imagine the world never ends."

This is the moment to take advantage of the child's awareness with a follow-through conversation. She suggests finding places on the map whose names he's heard, explaining that this is only the map of his country, and enlarging on his awareness of space.

This way, he's learning geography long before he can read or draw maps.

Mrs. Winsor says: Strategic use of the question "why" by a sensitized parent helps expose the kind of reasoning his youngster is doing, and keeps the parent abreast of the child. An authoritarian parent who "knows better" can't relax enough to set up this communication, and consequently underrates his child.

Teachers too are prone to tell the child what to do, rather than letting his comments open up a discussion for the entire class. They're unnerved if the remark can't be put into the slot of usual class activity. But actually, they'll make future learning more speedy if they stimulate the child's thinking at the moment he's ready for it.

Eskimo Scouts Stand Guard For U.S. in Far Northland

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — In our 49th state, where Uncle Sam rubs elbows with the Russian bear, a far-ranging group of unsung Eskimos stand as America's first line of defense.

They are the Eskimo Scouts of the Alaska National Guard. First organized in World War II, there are now two groups of them — totaling over 1,000 men. With detachments in 57 villages and towns in western and northwestern Alaska, they are constantly on patrol and intelligence missions.

In recent years they have spotted Soviet submarines, picked up radioactive debris to prove nuclear blasts in Siberia, and reported low-flying planes that have passed under our radar screens. Detachments of this unique National Guard force are stationed as far out as Little Diomed Island, just two-and-a-half miles from Siberia.

Actually, as National Guardsmen, the scouts are only part-time soldiers. Most are full-time hunters and fishermen, running their trap lines on the lonely Alaska coast and off-shore islands facing Siberia.

However, even when not on official duty, they are on the alert. Just recently, an off-duty scout hunter spotted three armed intruders approaching Little Diomed Island over the Bering Sea ice. The scouts were quickly organized to investigate. The Russians fled back to Siberia.

One of the great values of these Eskimo Scouts is their native ability to operate efficiently in Alaska's formidable cold, snow and ice.

They are also a great help to American flyers downed in this isolated part of the world. A few years ago, for example, a U. S. Navy twin-engine patrol bomber, with its 11-man crew, was flying at 8,000 feet near the U. S.-Russian frontier at the mouth of the Bering Straits.

Suddenly, two Migs attacked out of the sun. With three of his crew wounded and his port engine afire, Lt. R. H. Fisher, the pilot, headed for St. Lawrence Island, the nearest land.

This island sits midway between Alaska and Siberia. He barely managed to make it, crash-landing on the rocky shoreline. Four other crewmen, uninjured in the aerial shooting, were severely burned when the plane exploded in landing.

Within 20 minutes of crashing on one of the most isolated spots under the American flag, however, first aid was being given the injured men. Within another hour, all of the men were on their way by boat to a hospital.

Behind this rapid rescue work were Alaskan Scouts M. Sgt. Willis Walunga and Sgt. I.C. Clifford Iknoikok. They witnessed the crash and rushed to the scene in their boat.

One of the Scout units is headquartered in Nome. It covers an area as big as Texas, with its largest detachment in the far north at Point Barrow. The other unit works out of Bethel and covers the south-western Alaska coastline.

Dear Abby: Take Nearest Exit!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a man who is old enough to be my father, but who has shown more than a fatherly interest in me. Besides, he is married. I am a waitress and he is my boss. When I started to work here he gave me some very good advice on how to handle myself, and I appreciated it. I noticed later that every chance he had to talk to me he got on the subject of "sex." I always changed the subject but he managed to get back on it again. He even asked me some VERY personal questions about myself, which I answered truthfully because I am a nice girl and didn't see any reason to hide it. I am getting uncomfortable around him because he gets on the sex subject all the time. Do you think he has evil intentions? How should I guide myself?

A NICE GIRL
DEAR NICE GIRL: Guide yourself OUT the door and find another job. A man knows his chances are good as long as he can get a girl to talk or think about sex. (And his chances keep improving if she doesn't get him off it.) Take a big tip from me and quit while you're ahead.

DEAR ABBY: My future husband and I were making plans the other night and want to know what you think. We are both horse crazy and so are most of our friends. Even my mother is a good Western rider. We can't afford a big church wedding, so what do you think about getting married on horseback? We could have Western music. My fiancé said as much as he likes the horseback idea he kind of wanted to have me married in a gown, but you can't very well combine the two, can you? I don't suppose many people have heard about a wedding of this kind, but we know people who have done it and it worked out fine.

HORSE CRAY
DEAR CRAY: If you find a galloping clergyman, go ahead and have your Western wedding—and good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am 35 and have just received my FOURTH divorce. Every woman I married was older than I. (The last one was 14 years older but no one knew it.) I seem to get hooked by the same kind of selfish, domineering, bossy type woman every time. All I want is someone who will love me, take care of me and think of me before herself. IS that asking too much? Show me a girl under 35 with those qualifications and I'll marry her.

FOUR-TIME LOSER
DEAR LOSER: You don't want a wife—you want a mother. When you start to think in terms of what you can GIVE a woman instead of what you can GET, you'll be a man, my son. And only then can you expect a successful marriage. But not until.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

PICKAWAY COUNTY WOMEN'S Republican Club covered dish luncheon, 12:30 p. m. at the Schleich farm east of Williamsport.

TUESDAY

BERGER HOSPITAL GUILD NO. 29, 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Ralph Woollever, Route 1.

Quick parfait from the pantry shelf and freezer: mix drained crushed pineapple with undiluted frozen orange-juice concentrate and layer between scoops of vanilla ice cream in tall glasses. Garnish with springs of mint and fresh cherries with stems on.

For Sunday morning brunch, serve delicate thin pancakes with thawed sweetened frozen sliced strawberries. You can thicken the berry juice, if you like, with a little cornstarch.

Note to the bride: If you've used part of a pint or quart of ice cream, give the container an extra air-proof wrapping before putting back in the freezer. This overwrap helps maintain good texture.

ACCIDENTS HAPPEN IN THE HOME—Apparently battling heavy traffic to get home was too much for the driver of this car, and he just kept right on driving after getting into the car port.

If you are buying water tumblers, you may wish to choose them in the 12-ounce size so that they can be conveniently used for iced beverages.

Circleville Gridders Show Promise in Groveport Drill

Circleville's coaching staff was pleased with the overall showing of the Tiger grid crew in the first scrimmage session of the year Saturday at Groveport, according to Carl Benhase, head coach.

LL All-Stars Win 2 Games In Tourney

The Circleville little league all-stars won two games in the Chillicothe little league tournament during the weekend. The all-star nine Saturday shutout Greenfield Printing, 8-0, and edged Clay Twp., 3-2, yesterday.

Rickey Congrove, Circleville's outstanding hurler, pitched both games and was credited with victories. In Saturday's game he pitched a one-hit shutout, striking out 20 and walking only one. In yesterday's contest he gave only two hits, fanned 14 and walked three.

Tommy Wright was the batting star for the All-Stars in both games. In Saturday's contest he paced the 10-hit Circleville attack with a three-run home run. In yesterday's game he scored all three of the All-Star runs.

Circleville managed only three hits against Clay Twp., pitching, but took full advantage of errors and heads up base running in registering the victory. Rickey Congrove, Joe Winner and Rickey Sims each socked singles.

WRIGHT scored the first two runs against Clay on passed balls. He scored the winning tally on Sim's bunt single.

The All-Stars play Tuesday at the Scioto Valley Little League diamond against Latham. If they win they play Wednesday against Chillicothe Merchants. The diamond is located on Douglas Avenue two blocks south of Main St., in Chillicothe.

Bill Hodge, manager of the All-Stars, today said transportation for the games is needed. He requested parents willing to drive to be at the park 4:30 Tuesday.

Wilson Proves New Star on Browns' '11'

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (AP)—Tom Wilson has stamped himself a worthy running mate for Jim Brown in the Cleveland Browns' power-packed backfield.

Coach Paul Brown had good reason to beam as the left half-back, obtained from Los Angeles just before the start of the training season, ran wild Saturday night at Portland in Cleveland's 34-27 exhibition triumph over the San Francisco 49ers.

Wilson scored touchdowns on dashes of 6 and 32 yards and set up a third score with a 11-yard romp as he gained 109 yards in eight carries. He supplemented the sharp passing—and running—of quarterback Jim Ninkowski, who turned in another good game.

Ninkowski completed 15 of 25 passes for 197 yards, fired a 23-yard scoring pass to Leon Clarke and picked up 56 yards on three runs when he found his receivers covered.

Lou Groza kept his trusty toe active by booting two field goals and four extra points. His 46-yard field goal with six seconds left in the half gave the Browns a 17-14 advantage, and they never relinquished the lead.

"I feel pretty good about the offense," said Coach Brown as he prepared his unbeaten club for its fourth exhibition start Saturday night against the Rams at Los Angeles.

The Browns piled up 386 net yards—206 rushing and 180 passing. San Francisco also flashed a strong offense, mainly on the passing of John Brodie. The 49ers made 106 yards on the ground and 262 through the air as Brodie connected on 23 of 33 passes.

the ball well and was able to move effectively. The Tigers, however, need to learn their assignments more thoroughly, he said.

The scrimmage session was conducted in two one-half hour scrimmages. The first was with Groveport and the second with Marion Franklin.

Garold Dade, Circleville's All-SCO league quarterback last year, turned in the longest run for the Tigers. It was a 26-yard scoring jaunt.

OF THE Fantastic Four, composed of Dade, Dave Hannahs, Duke Fyffe and Freddie Moore, Duke Fyffe carried the ball the most times and had the best average per try. He gained a total of 81 yards in 13 attempts for an average of 6.23 per carry.

Dade gained 54 yards on 11 carries, Moore gained 47 on eight and Hannahs gained five on three tries.

Circleville's passing attack was effective in the scrimmage. Hannahs completed six of eight for a total of 73 yards.

Ray (The Toe) Taylor made good on two of four extra point attempts.

The Tigers scored twice in the scrimmage with Groveport but were unable to connect for the first time.

NEW YORK (AP)—The last time New York's Yankees faced Cleveland the Indians swept four straight and grabbed a two-game lead in the American League.

That was on June 17. The Indians now are in seventh place and the Yanks gave that pennant gleam in their eyes, although floundering in a six-game losing spell.

Cleveland, beginning to stir again, has won three in a row for the first time since July 7. The Tribe stayed out of eighth place by whipping the Boston Red Sox three out of four over the weekend, sweeping Sunday's doubleheader 10-5 and 4-0.

Jim Perry (10-10) won the opener, though needing a strong relief job from Gary Bell over the final 3 2-3 innings. Bubba Phillips drove in four runs with a single and a homer. Tito Francona also homered. Lu Clinton and Frank Malzone hit homers for the Red Sox.

The nightcap was a masterpiece for Dick Donovan, blanking Boston on two hits—a single and a double by Malzone. Between the second and eighth inning safeties, he retired 17 batters in a row as he won his 17th this season and 100th of his major league career.

SONNY SIDE UP—Going into intensive training for his September 25th title bout, Sonny Liston, the heavyweight challenger, works out on the punching bag at his Aurora, Ill., camp. Liston meets the champ, Floyd Patterson, in Chicago.

point after touchdown. Groveport scored on a 65-yard touchdown run from scrimmage and connected on a pass play for two points after the touchdown.

In the scrimmage with Marion Franklin, Fyffe and Dade tallied touchdowns and Taylor made good on both conversion attempts. Marion Franklin was unable to score.

EVERY Circleville player saw action Saturday. Members of the freshmen team did not participate.

Other running statistics were: Dave Bass, two rushing attempts, lost two yards; Gary Betts carried four times, gained eight yards; Tim Mogan, carried twice, gained 16 yards; Mick Tomlinson, carried twice, lost one yard; Bruce Horn, carried twice, gained 18 yards.

Tomorrow the Tigers travel to Gahanna for an all-day session. George Troutman, head coach at Gahanna, is a graduate of Circleville High School and Capital University.

Doubleheader Loss Suffered By Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson had some choice words after his Cincinnati Reds lost a doubleheader to the Houston Colts Sunday, but, by careful editing, the gist was this:

"It was the same thing in this case as it was being beaten in a doubleheader by the New York Mets."

It was only a couple of weeks ago that the Reds moved into New York for a five-game series three games, two of them in a doubleheader.

Since then they have rallied sharply but Sunday's 2-1 and 6-4 defeats dropped them 4½ games behind the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers and two games behind second place San Francisco.

And starting Tuesday the pressure will be on—the next six playing days against the West Coast clubs in their ballparks may tell whether the Reds have a chance to repeat as league champions.

The Reds' hitting Sunday decidedly was on the puny side. The pitching wavered, too, even though Jim Maloney and Jim Brosnan gave up only five hits and two runs in the opener. Reliever Ted Wills was the loser in the second game.

Frank Robinson, who has been battling for the league lead in hitting, got only one single in seven times at bat and hit into two double plays.

The 1962 Chicago boat show attracted 343,000 persons in 10 days.

15 Trotters Set For Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—A colt and a filly were among the most frequently discussed trotters named for the 37th Hambletonian, harness racing's foremost classic which will be renewed Wednesday.

Fifteen 3-year-old trotters drew post positions Sunday for the race which will have a purse value of $116,612, with $62,845 to the first horse winning two heats.

Broadcasts Scheduled Of Hambletonian Trot

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The famed Hambletonian trotting classic here Wednesday will be broadcast by the Mutual System.

With Charley Hinkle at the microphone, heats of harness racing's richest trotting race will be carried at 3:35, 4:15 and 5:15 p.m. EST. Nearly 500 radio stations are in the mutual hookup.

The draw left three favorites in a second try with several long shots receiving more enviable starting spots among 10 horses in the front tier.

Drivers, owners and trainers were in almost unanimous agreement the first of the mile heats will be a scramble with favorites from the rear trying to breach the forward wall of horses.

Three appeared a strong possibility of separate victors in the first two heats, pushing the race into at least a third heat.

Emily's Pride won a three-heat Hambletonian in 1958, and it went to four heats in 1960. Harlan Dean captured the first two heats last year.

Sprite Rodney, a filly to be driven by 30-year-old Eddie Wheeler, was discussed as having the best chance of capturing the first two heats this time.

She stepped a mile in 2:00 2-5 at Vernon Downs earlier this month, the best time this season for any of the five fillies, nine colts and one gelding in the race. Given unofficial odds of 3-1, Sprite drew No. 5 position in the front tier.

Tom Eaton of Norwich, N.Y., co-owner of Sprite, said she "is a very fast starter. The horse behind her could easily slip through the front tier as she leaves."

Ohio Athletic Injury Conference Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Team physicians, coaches and administrators who guide organized athletics in Ohio high schools will attend a conference on athletic injuries at Ohio State University Wednesday and Thursday. The conference is devoted to the conditioning of high school athletes and prevention and treatment of injuries.

Pittsburgh won the National League pennant by 27½ games over second place Brooklyn in 1902, the biggest margin in major league history.

Babe Ruth may have hit a record 714 home runs during his 22 year major league career but he also struck out more than any other player—1,330 times.

Teays Valley Gridiron Force In First Scrimmage Session

Teays Valley High School held the first of its three scrimmage sessions with other schools Saturday morning at Hamilton Twp. High School.

It was a controlled scrimmage in which each varsity team held possession of the ball for 10 plays.

According to Marion Waites, head coach at TV High School, the scrimmage showed a decided need for improvement, especially offensively, for his gridgers.

Waites pointed out that blocking in the line left much to be desired. He was also disappointed in the apparent inability of the backs to hit into offensive holes with authority.

DEFENSIVELY, the Viking gridgers were able to pursue fairly well and the tackling was good at times, he said.

Hamilton's passing attack and outside belly play proved difficult for the TV varsity defenders. The host team was able to score three times — twice on the ground and once through the air.

Waites singled out Dan Hollenback as the only Viking back to gain consistently for Teays Valley.

He noted that practice this week will be designed to smooth out offensive errors and to adjust the defense. He said that some personnel changes would be made in an effort to provide better blocking and more defensive punch.

In summarizing the team's progress Waites said, "Overall we have a long way to go both offensively and defensively. Our condition is not good yet and we are not hitting with any violent authority."

Scrimmage sessions have been slated with St. Charles on Wednesday and with Pleasant View next Saturday.

LARGEST RECORDED AT HARGUS — Terry Rife, 227 S. Scioto St., proudly displays these two dandy largemouth bass he hauled in yesterday morning at Hargus Lake. The whopper on the right weighed 5½ pounds and measured 22 inches. It was the largest bass ever weighed in at Thompson's boathouse. The smaller catch weighed 3½ pounds and measured 19 inches. Rife landed the prize largemouths with a spinner outfit and an artificial lure. (Photo by William Brungs)

Teays Valley Gridiron Force In First Scrimmage Session

Teays Valley High School held the first of its three scrimmage sessions with other schools Saturday morning at Hamilton Twp. High School.

It was a controlled scrimmage in which each varsity team held possession of the ball for 10 plays.

According to Marion Waites, head coach at TV High School, the scrimmage showed a decided need for improvement, especially offensively, for his gridgers.

Waites pointed out that blocking in the line left much to be desired. He was also disappointed in the apparent inability of the backs to hit into offensive holes with authority.

DEFENSIVELY, the Viking gridgers were able to pursue fairly well and the tackling was good at times, he said.

Hamilton's passing attack and outside belly play proved difficult for the TV varsity defenders. The host team was able to score three times — twice on the ground and once through the air.

Waites singled out Dan Hollenback as the only Viking back to gain consistently for Teays Valley.

He noted that practice this week will be designed to smooth out offensive errors and to adjust the defense. He said that some personnel changes would be made in an effort to provide better blocking and more defensive punch.

In summarizing the team's progress Waites said, "Overall we have a long way to go both offensively and defensively. Our condition is not good yet and we are not hitting with any violent authority."

Scrimmage sessions have been slated with St. Charles on Wednesday and with Pleasant View next Saturday.

Wills Displays
His Value to
Dodger Crew
Fleet-Footed Maury
Gets on Base 3 Times,
Steals 3, Scores 3
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
First inning: Maury Wills walked, stole second and scored on a single by Tommy Davis.
Third inning: Wills beat out an infield hit, stole second, reached third on Willie Davis' safe bunt and scored when Tommy Davis hit into a double play.
Sixth inning: Wills doubled home a run, stole third and scored on a single by Jim Gilliam.
Thus did Maury Wills, perhaps the greatest base stealer in modern baseball history, demonstrate once more his tremendous value to the Los Angeles Dodgers.
With the fleet-footed shortstop reaching base three times, stealing three bases and scoring three times, the Dodgers' rounced the hapless New York Mets 16-5 Sunday to retain their National League lead of 2 1/2 games over the San Francisco Giants.
Houston's Colts cooled off the red hot Cincinnati Reds 2-1 and 6-4. The twin loss dropped the third-place Reds 4 1/2 games behind the Dodgers and two behind the Giants, who defeated Philadelphia 7-4.
The Chicago Cubs beat Milwaukee 4-1 and Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with St. Louis, winning the second game 7-6, after the Cards had taken the opener 6-5.
The New York Yankees' American League lead was reduced to three games over Los Angeles and Minnesota. Baltimore defeated the Yankees 2-1 to sweep the five-game series; The Angels shut out the Chicago White Sox 4-0, and the Twins blanked Kansas City 1-0 as southpaw Jack Kralick hurled a no-hitter, the fifth in the majors this season.
Cleveland swept a doubleheader from Boston 10-5 and 4-0 and Detroit split with Washington, the Tigers won the opener 5-3 and the Senators took the second game 5-2.
The Giants were outlit, 11-7, by Philadelphia, but five of their safeties were for extra bases and helped them win their fourth straight. Orlando Cepeda drove in two runs with his 30th homer, the fourth in three games. Felipe Alou also homered his 21st of the season.
Jack Sanford, with relief help from Mike McCormick and Bob Bolin, registered his 18th triumph. The loss was charged to Art Mahaffey, the Phils' 17-game winner. Southpaw George Brunet pitched a five-hitter in the first game and veteran second baseman Johnny Temple drove in two runs that snapped a 4-4 tie in the second game to highlight Houston's double victory over the Reds.

Wills Displays
His Value to
Dodger Crew
Fleet-Footed Maury
Gets on Base 3 Times,
Steals 3, Scores 3
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
First inning: Maury Wills walked, stole second and scored on a single by Tommy Davis.
Third inning: Wills beat out an infield hit, stole second, reached third on Willie Davis' safe bunt and scored when Tommy Davis hit into a double play.
Sixth inning: Wills doubled home a run, stole third and scored on a single by Jim Gilliam.
Thus did Maury Wills, perhaps the greatest base stealer in modern baseball history, demonstrate once more his tremendous value to the Los Angeles Dodgers.
With the fleet-footed shortstop reaching base three times, stealing three bases and scoring three times, the Dodgers' rounced the hapless New York Mets 16-5 Sunday to retain their National League lead of 2 1/2 games over the San Francisco Giants.
Houston's Colts cooled off the red hot Cincinnati Reds 2-1 and 6-4. The twin loss dropped the third-place Reds 4 1/2 games behind the Dodgers and two behind the Giants, who defeated Philadelphia 7-4.
The Chicago Cubs beat Milwaukee 4-1 and Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with St. Louis, winning the second game 7-6, after the Cards had taken the opener 6-5.
The New York Yankees' American League lead was reduced to three games over Los Angeles and Minnesota. Baltimore defeated the Yankees 2-1 to sweep the five-game series; The Angels shut out the Chicago White Sox 4-0, and the Twins blanked Kansas City 1-0 as southpaw Jack Kralick hurled a no-hitter, the fifth in the majors this season.
Cleveland swept a doubleheader from Boston 10-5 and 4-0 and Detroit split with Washington, the Tigers won the opener 5-3 and the Senators took the second game 5-2.
The Giants were outlit, 11-7, by Philadelphia, but five of their safeties were for extra bases and helped them win their fourth straight. Orlando Cepeda drove in two runs with his 30th homer, the fourth in three games. Felipe Alou also homered his 21st of the season.
Jack Sanford, with relief help from Mike McCormick and Bob Bolin, registered his 18th triumph. The loss was charged to Art Mahaffey, the Phils' 17-game winner. Southpaw George Brunet pitched a five-hitter in the first game and veteran second baseman Johnny Temple drove in two runs that snapped a 4-

Wills Displays His Value to Dodger Crew

Fleet-Footed Maury Gets on Base 3 Times, Steals 3, Scores 3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
First inning: Maury Wills walked, stole second and scored on a single by Tommy Davis.

Third inning: Wills beat out an infield hit, stole second, reached third on Willie Davis' safe bunt and scored when Tommy Davis hit into a double play.

Sixth inning: Wills doubled home a run, stole third and scored on a single by Jim Gilliam.

Thus did Maury Wills, perhaps the greatest base stealer in modern baseball history, demonstrate once more his tremendous value to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

With the fleet-footed shortstop reaching base three times, stealing three bases and scoring three times, the Dodgers' rounced the hapless New York Mets 16-5 Sunday to retain their National League lead of 2 1/2 games over the San Francisco Giants.

Houston's Colts cooled off the red hot Cincinnati Reds 2-1 and 6-4. The twin loss dropped the third-place Reds 4 1/2 games behind the Dodgers and two behind the Giants,

Unitas' Old Second-Half Magic Returns as Baltimore Romps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Unitas has found that old second-half magic that he used a few seasons back to spark Baltimore to a pair of National Football League titles, and the thought is enough to give the six other Western Conference coaches a good case of preseason heebie-jeebies.

The Colts' quarterback, injury free this year, has led the Colts to three straight exhibition victories. Last Saturday night, he put on one of his patented second-half clutch performances as the Colts pulled away to a 24-10 victory over the Dallas Cowboys (0-3) at Norfolk, Va. He passed for one TD and set up a second after the Colts had been held to a 3-3 half-time tie.

The Cleveland Browns and defending champion Green Bay Packers are the only other teams with perfect records. The Browns, with newcomer Tom Wilson leading the way, upended San Francisco (2-1) 34-27 at Portland, Ore., for their third straight win. At Milwaukee the Packers won their fourth exhibition game, and third against NFL foes, 35-21 over the Chicago Bears (0-3).

The New York Giants won their first in three starts, 31-24 over the Rams (2-1) at Los Angeles, Philadelphia (2-1) beat Washington (0-3) 24-7 at Charlotte, N.C., and the St. Louis Cardinals (1-1-1) edged the Minnesota Vikings (0-3) at Minneapolis, 24-21.

In an American League exhibition Sunday at Oakland, Calif., San Diego struggled to beat the Oakland Raiders 33-27.

Tonight, in Detroit, the Lions play host to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Unitas passed 11 yards to rookie fullback Bob Clemens for one second-half score and sneaked a yard for the second, setting it up with a 45-yard pass to Jimmy Orr. Lenny Lyles' 45-yard run with an interception of Eddie LeBaron's pass broke the tie in the third period before Unitas clinched it. Quarterback Don Meredith ran five yards for Dallas' only touchdown.

Wilson, acquired from the Rams and playing in place of sidelined Ernie Davis, scored twice and set up a third score as he racked up 103 yards in only eight carries. But the Browns' ever-leaky pass defense was raw meat for 49er quarterback John Brodie, who completed 23 of 33 passes for 262 yards and one touchdown, and set up two more with his aerials.

Green Bay's 1-2 punch of quarterback Bart Starr, who passed 43 yards to Max McGee and 18 to Lew Carpenter for scores, and fullback Jim Taylor, who scored two and rolled up 103 yards rushing in a second-half drive, are still the Packers' forte. The Bears, still unable to mount a consistent attack but strong on defense, held Taylor to only eight yards in the first half.

Local Man Trains With Navy Reserve

Charles O. Hatt, 1009 Mulberry Road, a member of the Naval Reserve, recently completed two weeks of active duty training with the Naval Air Reserve Patrol Squadron VP-726 at the U. S. Naval Station in Puerto Rico.

The two weeks training started Aug. 6 and consisted of extensive in-the-air and classroom training in air operations and in all phases of anti-submarine warfare. The primary mission of an anti-submarine patrol squadron in wartime is to detect, track and destroy enemy submarines.

Over water navigational flights were made to St. Thomas and St. Croix in the Virgin Islands, Bermuda, Barbados, and the Panama Canal Zone. VP-726 flight crews flew long range missions over the Caribbean and the Atlantic Ocean and logged more than 4,000 hours of flight time during the two-week cruise.

Swiss Guard ceremonies, such as this one, are an attraction for tourists from over the world.

Swiss Guards Still Vatican Sentinels

By HARRY KURSH
Central Press Association
Correspondent

ROME—On Oct. 11, the Vatican will convene the first Catholic Ecumenical Council of this century. Catholics from all over the world will pour into Rome, and many will notice for the first time one of the great anachronisms of world politics, the Swiss Vatican Guards.

The Swiss are the undisputed champions of peace and neutrality. As a matter of fact, the Swiss federal constitution forbids the sending of military forces outside Swiss territory.

Yet, the Swiss Guards are an elite force of trained soldiers sworn to battle in defense of the Pope and have manned their Vatican stations for more than four centuries.

Another political oddity lies in the fact that the Swiss Guards, strictly speaking, are mercenaries in a world that generally frowns upon professional-for-hire soldiers. Yet they are among the most popular and most photographed tourist attractions in the world.

Actually, the Swiss Guards have not done any fighting since 1527, when they fought to protect Pope Clement VII against an invading German Imperial army that had sacked Rome. Vastly outnumbered, the Swiss Guards fought fiercely. Out of a detachment of some 200 men, only 42 guards survived. But their heroic stand enabled Pope Clement to escape.

Nowadays, the Swiss Guards, in their colorful uniforms designed by the master artist Michelangelo, occasionally have to do battle against overzealous tourists who try to snatch pieces of their uniform as souvenirs. Otherwise, the life of a Swiss Guard is serene and the duty largely ceremonial.

However, this is not to say that they are unprepared to fight. Every member of the Guards is a veteran of the highly-regarded Swiss army.

When he reports to the Vatican, he receives additional training, notably in the use of his medieval steel helmet, breast plate, halberd and 19th century rifle.

Nonetheless, would-be attackers of the Pope ought not to be deceived by these criminal accouterments. Behind the scenes, the guards are thoroughly trained in the use of modern, automatic weapons and, like most Swiss, are expert marksmen.

For female tourists, however, the Swiss Guards might prove to be more attractive in their own right. Every member of the Guards is unmarried and chosen for his good health and outstanding character.

The present force of the Swiss

Guards is about 100, including officers. All are volunteers from the Catholic provinces of Switzerland.

Although Catholics are a minority in Switzerland, the Swiss are proud of their historic role in having provided these volunteers since the first detachment marched into the Vatican on Jan. 22, 1506, as a personal guard to Pope Julius II.

Almost every member of the Guards makes a personal sacrifice to serve. His pay is only $112 a month, out of which nearly $50 is taken off for his room and board.

A guardsman serves at least two years, leaving a rather comfortable life in a nation that thrives on serenity, cleanliness and unmatched scenic beauty as well as one of the highest standards of living in the world.

Yet, recently, when a call went out for 21 additional volunteers to supplement the Vatican force for the coming Ecumenical Council, there were far more applicants than vacancies.

Mrs. Finkbine's Family 'First'

Abortion Patient Headed for Arizona

CINCINNATI (AP)—"My family is my first job; getting the children readjusted is next," said a weary Mrs. Sherri Finkbine, here to seek a few days rest at her husband's family home in Indiana.

There was a hint of her task in daughter Terry, 7, when Mrs. Finkbine and her husband, Robert, arrived at Greater Cincinnati Airport Sunday night.

They were on the last leg of the return flight from Mrs. Finkbine's thalidomide abortion in Sweden.

Young Terry ran to the steps of the plane when her mother descended and thrust a gift package in her hands.

Flashbulbs started popping, newsmen began questions and movie lights flared, and the little girl became frightened. She started to sob.

"Let her alone," said Mrs. Finkbine. "She's scared."

The little girl's father stopped to comfort her and she went back to the care of her grandmother, while Mrs. Finkbine and her husband agreed to talk briefly with newsmen.

"These are the men who have been putting your mother's picture in the funny papers," said Mrs. Finkbine to her daughter.

Mrs. Finkbine said she hoped for a good rest with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Finkbine of Lawrenceburg, before going home to Phoenix, Ariz.

She stated again her belief she had done right in the legal abortion gained in Sweden after being denied in Arizona.

She sought the abortion in fear the infant would be born deformed because she took the sleeping drug thalidomide in early pregnancy. Swedish doctors indicated the drug had affected the unborn fetus.

"I'm just grateful," she said. "I don't blame anybody. It's mothers who have had these children who have great worries."

"The mail we received in Sweden about this was mostly favorable. The only bad letter we got in Scandinavia was from someone in New York."

Mrs. Finkbine repeated her contention that American abortion laws should not be overturned, but could be modified. She said: "The thing I believe is that moral, religious and judicial processes should not interfere with a doctor's decision."

Information please

As pharmacists, one of our jobs is answering questions. These may range from "Which tooth paste is best?" to "Is there a doctor close by?" To us, they're part of a day's work, and we try our best to answer. As businessmen and pharmacists, we know the products we sell. We know the physicians in our area and their specialties. Feel free to use us as "answer men" next time you're in... it's part of our service.
